BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Land Meeting in Ireland

[illegible], Oct 6—Fifteen thousand people were [present] at a land meeting held to day. W[illegible] [illegible] member of parliament extolled Gladstone [illegible]. He declared that those who [illegible] the soil should own it and landlords [should be] fairly bought out. Parnell home [rule] member for Meath, declared that the [illegible] required to acts of parliament [illegible] should rely on passive physical resistance [illegible] to unjust demands. So long as England governed Ireland they would resort [to] [illegible] and oppression. Col Colthurst [illegible] McKenna, Patrick J. Smythe and [other] home rule members of parliament also [made] speeches

Heavily Backed—A Horseman's Advice to English Farmers.

[LONDON], Oct. 5—Parole has been supported [with more] money than any horse in the con[test] for the Cesarewitch stakes. Jockeys who [have ridden] him think he cannot stay the [distance] over two miles and a quarter. His [trainer] and owner are confident of winning. [The] Duke of Beaufort, proprietor of large [estates in] England and Ireland, says that it [is impossible] to compete with American [producers]; he advises British farmers to de[vote their] attention to raising cattle

THE NORTHWEST.

Eastern Oregon.

[illegible] night the house of a Mr [illegible] at Baker City, was destroyed by fire. [illegible] contents were saved.

[illegible] is now the only boat navigat[ing the] river. That stream is just six [feet lower] now than it was in December [illegible] Capt. Stump and his little boat [were] out by the ice. The worse place [is the] Monumental rock, where there is a [narrow] channel with less than four feet [of water] over the boulders

[The] weekly papers published in the east[ern part] of the state have held a press meet[ing and] passed various resolutions, among [them one] affirming that "the laborer is wor[thy of] his hire, and that members of this [association] declare that we will not advo[cate in] our columns the election of any [candidate] for political office gratuitously." [illegible] will see that they have to [illegible] to the "press piece club"

[illegible]: The portages being now [illegible] the surplus, we may look for a re[illegible] of the old schedule of 2000 tons [daily] until the close of navigation. After [the] [illegible] this month it will require two [boats each] way daily, above Celilo, to get [the grain] out on the same schedule as now [illegible] three boats in all, two on one day [and one on] the other. Railroad is the thing [illegible] for the upper country, especially [illegible]. The acreage will increase forty [per cent next] year, and that if no frost in[terferes to] kill the grain, will give such a [crop that] all the O. S N. Co's fleet could not [carry] it even if both the Dalles and the [Cascades] locks built around them. This [country] is the best grain garden that [illegible] out of doors.

Eastern Washington.

[illegible] again prevails at Walla Walla.
[illegible] building is being put up at Walla [Walla].

[illegible] thieves entered Thompson's tin [shop at] Walla Walla and stole a valuable [illegible] other articles.

[Stephen] Maxon, for twenty years a [resident of] Walla Walla valley, and formerly [a member] of the territorial legislature died [illegible] a few days ago.

[illegible] will probably be invited to vis[it Walla] Walla. The managers of the O S [illegible] railroad companies will tender him [special] boats and trains to carry himself and [party].

[Prices] current at Walla Walla Oct 4th [illegible] 37c, eggs per doz. 25c, potatoes [illegible] $1 25, flour per barrel $4 wheat per [illegible] barley per cental, new 50c, old [illegible] cental $1, corn per cental $1 [illegible] per ton $16, bran per ton $10

[The] Walla Walla Statesman, Oct 4th. There is [a large] amount of wheat and other grain in [piled] up in the fields where threshed, [with] only a covering of straw. It seems [a] great pity that wheat after going suc[cessfully] through all the labor of preparation [illegible] should be damaged when on the [eve of] being converted into money. The [illegible] experience should serve as a [lesson to] the producer. A shed should be [illegible], if nothing more, to cover it from [the rains] of October, which are almost cer[tain to come] every year

[The] Walla Walla Union, Oct. 4th. Last Sa[tur]day night there were 8000 tons of wheat in [the] warehouses and on the platforms at the [depot] awaiting shipment. As the railroad [is] hauling away between 400 and 500 tons [per] day, and as the farmers haul it [in at the] rate of 700 or 800 tons per day the [amount] at the depot is constantly increas[ing]. Taking 30,000 tons a low estimate as [the] probable product of this harvest year and [estimating] that one-half of it has already been [hauled] to the depot, it is evident that a large [quantity] will have to be stored on the farms [this] winter, and that the railroad and boats [will] have lots to do at the opening of navi[gation] next spring.

Idaho.

[Master] Harlan Petty who was recently ap[pointed] to a cadetship in the Annapolis naval [academy], has passed all the examinations [and] is now in attendance.

[John] Hackett, one of the party who was [with] U. S. Marshal E S Chase in the pur[suit of a] band of robbers in the Bruneau [country] recently, was drowned while a[ttempting] to cross Snake river at the Big Bot[tom].

[Miss] Annie Looney, daughter of Matt [Looney], proprietor of the principal hotel in [Idaho] City, while returning from Banner to [Idaho] in a wagon met a shocking death. [While] descending a hill the pole broke the [wagon] capsized and her neck was broken [illegible] 18.

Badly Mixed.

[Englishmen] have been getting California [politics] mixed. The London Saturday Review [announces] that "the new Governor of California, [who] was formerly a Baptist minister [illegible], probably molted by the outrageous attempt [of one] of his opponents to murder him on the [eve] of his election, but it is satisfac[tory to find] that the more respectable of the [illegible] parties still controls the state [illegible]." The Paris Figaro, commenting on the re[cent election] in San Francisco, says "Politi[illegible] had brought into antagonism [illegible] candidate of the workingmen's [party at] the next elections and Mr. DeYoung [illegible] Chronicle, who supported Mr [illegible] of the republican party"

Suicide

[Yesterday] morning H Wallace lately employed as a canvasser for the Bradstreet Company at [illegible] California street committed suicide [in his] room at the Philadelphia House [illegible] Bush street by shooting himself in the head. Deceased had left the Bradstreet Company some weeks ago and last week was negotiating for a canvassing trip for Code [illegible] He was not financially embarrassed and his suicide is probably due to mental aberration

Drowned.

Capt Hine master of the scow Express was drowned in the bay yesterday about noon. He was knocked overboard by the main boom while going aboard

The San Francisco Walking Match

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 6—Positions and prospects in the walking match were somewhat changed at noon. McIntyre leading with a score of 395 miles. Carmichael next with 374. Scott 349. Chenowith and Wilcox even at 336. Murdock has pulled up wonderfully, standing at 332. Bowman 330. Green 302. Duplissea 300. McIntyre, Carmichael and Scott are in good condition. Wilcox is badly broken up, while Chenowith is all right. Murdock is in good condition with a prospect of being fourth in the race while Green may overhaul Bowman and Wilcox in the next 24 hours and take the sixth position.

Score at 9 P M: Bozenham 205, Wilcox 339, Thompson 302, Uddin, 293, Chenowith 360, Murdock 360, McGinn 301, Matteson 332, Stewart, 300, Harmon 263, Duplissea 320, Charmichael, 400, Santos 268, Scott 380, Reid, 313, Bowman, 357, McLennon 289, Ferguson 275, Green 332, Berger 221, McIntyre 426, Curtis, 307, Dewey, 291, and Evans 299

Rain Throughout California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 6—Dispatches from the interior indicates that rain to-day though light has been quite general throughout the state, and has seriously interfered with telegraphic communication

Weather

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6—It has blowing strong from the south all the morning. During forenoon clouds gathered and shortly after noon light rain began falling with a prospect of continuance

GETTYSBURG AND FREDERICKSBURG

WHAT GEN LEE SAID ABOUT THESE TWO GREAT BATTLES.

Southern Historical Society Papers for September contains the following extracts from a private letter from Gen R E Lee

As to the battle of Gettysburg I must again refer you to the official accounts. Its loss was occasioned by a combination of circumstances. It was commenced in the absence of correct intelligence. It was continued in the effort to overcome the difficulties by which we were surrounded and it would have been gained could one determined and united blow have been delivered by our whole line. As it was, victory trembled in the balance for three days and the battle resulted in the infliction of as great an amount of injury as was received and in frustrating the federal campaign for the season.

I think you will find the answer to your third question in my report of the battle of Fredericksburg. In taking up the position there it was with the view of resisting Gen Burnside's advance after crossing the Rappahannock rather than of preventing the passage. The plain of Fredericksburg is completely commanded by the heights of Stafford which prevented our occupying it in the first instance. Nearly the whole loss that our army sustained during the battle arose from the pursuit of the repulsed Federal column into the plain. To have advanced the whole army into the plain for the purpose of attacking Gen Burnside would have been to have insured its destruction by the fire from the continued line of guns on the Stafford hills. It was considered more wise to meet the federal army beyond the reach of their batteries than under their muzzles, and even to invite repeated renewal of their attacks. When convinced of their inutility it was easy for them under cover of a long dark and tempestuous night to cross the narrow river by means of their numerous bridges before we could ascertain their purpose

SOME PROVISION FOR SHELTER NEEDED

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN]

SEATTLE Oct 3 1879

From present indications it would appear that October is likely to prove one of the wettest months of the year, and the damage done to the farming interest of the lower Sound by the heavy rains of the past two weeks is likely to be much greater than was at first supposed. We have had an ample harvest time however, and with but slight exceptions the grain crop was harvested in good condition but when harvested it seems no provision had been made for sheltering it and for this reason hundreds of tons of grain have been ruined in the Swinomish country. In this section all of the threshing is done out of doors in the open fields and the unthreshed grain stacked up in the vicinity of the threshers has been drenched with rain. The wonder is, that the farmers thereabouts have made no provision for such an exigency. It would appear to be a very easy matter for them to construct during the winter season at which time they have abundant leisure, sufficient shed accommodations for their entire crop. In the immediate vicinity of the flats a sufficient quantity of cedar shakes could be easily procured for covering any number of grain sheds that might be required and why sheds of this character have not been generally constructed there in view of our unsettled climate and the possibility of a damaging rain storm at any time during the harvest season particularly when they can be built so cheap is really strange

Railway Survey.

The Astorian reports favorable progress on the survey for a railroad route from Astoria to the Nehalem. It says:

Col Talcott was in the city day before yesterday and reported the survey carried through to Nehalem river near the mouth of the Humbug. The effort now is to find a pass from there into the Willamette valley. The engineer we understand was instructed by the directors to push that work through immediately rain or shine. A line of easy grade and short length from Astoria to the Nehalem river has been found. The same success from Nehalem to the Willamette valley will show a short route through of easy grade. We have no doubt that it is there and will be found. Three routes will need to be run from Nehalem valley into Washington county. The route is [illegible] creek to Forest Grove and via Dairy creek to Cornelius also via Quick's pass to Hillsboro. Astorians cannot be expected to make all these surveys at their own personal expense. The valley must aid the coast. The line in any event will most likely pass on the south side of Wapato lake thence into Chehalem south of Lafayette and so on to Salem

Historical.

From the New Orleans Times

Now ladies and gentlemen shouted the book agent before the picnic concludes I want to sell every one of you a copy of the Life of Pocahontas. She was an Injun girl. Poky was—they called her Poky for short—but she wasn't the kind that went around peddling baskets and blow guns. Not frequently. Stand at home playing croquet in the front yard or went to the ladies' aid society and didn't take no copperas off o' nobody. The celebrated John Smith came traveling through them parts as agent for a family paper but Poky wouldn't let her father raise a club. She married Smith afterward and the last act of her life was to die of consumption. Just here Officer [illegible] Sammy Jones approached with a shot gun and the meeting adjourned

I'll subscribe for the paper said Vanderbilt laying down an agricultural journal he had been reading. "Its editor is a man of high attainments." His eye had caught an article headed "Water Your Stock Regularly."

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

A Boom for Pacific Mail

NEW YORK, Sept [illegible]—In explanation of the marked advance in the price of Pacific Mail shares one of the directors of the company to-day [said] that the company is and has been for some time past realizing large profits and is rapidly paying off its back obligations to the Panama road. It will pay off to-morrow the further sum of $[illegible] [illegible] of this indebtedness and the money for this purpose is now in the bank. Every steamer out is fully loaded with freight and incoming steamers from Aspinwall are continually compelled to leave much freight behind. The net earnings of the company at this time are at the rate of $[illegible]000 per month and it is stated that by the beginning of next year the entire bonded indebtedness will have been reduced to $1,000,000. If this information which comes officially be correct there are certainly good reasons to justify the confident expectations of the leading shareholders that the company will at an early day take place among the dividend paying corporations. Thorough organization of the management of the company's affairs at San Francisco has been ordered by the board of directors including a reduction of all salaries [illegible] per cent

Disposition to Scratch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—The Tribune publishes a letter from Thurlow Weed advising anti-Cornell republicans to vote the straight ticket. The Tribune though affecting to sneer at youthful scratchers betrays no little uneasiness regarding the movement which is evidently quietly spreading

Opposition to the Hawaiian Treaty

NEW YORK, Sept 30—A Washington special says: The Louisiana sugar planters have renewed their complaints against the treaty with the Hawaiian Islands. It is claimed that not only the products of Kalakaua's kingdom are admitted into this country under that instrument, free of duty but that cane growers in other parts of the world have taken advantage of it to the injury of American producers. Allen the insular chief justice, who negotiated the treaty is interested in the trade, and is supposed to have made a large sum of money by his success in bamboozling the United States. Representative Gibson will introduce at the next session of Congress a resolution for the abrogation of the treaty

"Colonel Sellers" a Single Man Again.

NEW YORK, Sept 30—Marie E Raymond was divorced in Brooklyn yesterday from John T Raymond ("Colonel Sellers"). The court would not allow any of the facts to be made public. There is known to be a woman in the case, but whether an actress or not is not known

Gen Grant and the Ship Canal Scheme.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—A Herald Washington special says: Since the return of General Grant to the United States none of his friends in Washington have heard anything from him on the subject of the Nicaragua canal but by the mail received from Yokohama at the navy department to-day came letters from naval officers in the Atlantic squadron stating that during the general's visit to Japan when he received letters from Ammen he commenced at once to talk up the subject and inspired new interest in the project. One of the officers says:

Grant is thoroughly in for it and we catch an enthusiasm from him that seems to assure the building of a great inter-oceanic canal via Nicaragua. It was generally understood among officers of the navy in Asiatic waters that without delay another expedition would be sent to resurvey the route and make a final report of the most available route. Requests have been made by officers to be ordered home, that they may have the honor of aiding in the beginning of the great work. Interest is given to the subject by letters from the minister of public works in Nicaragua, who was during Grant's administration, the representative of the country in Washington. He writes to the engineer A. G. Menocal: "The government of Nicaragua looks upon the American people as the only one likely to build the canal across the country and as our hopes are all concentrated in that work the president of Nicaragua and all our people are anxious to grant anything that may facilitate the construction of the canal. Grant's willingness to identify himself with the canal company was promptly made known to the Nicaraguan government in advance of its being published in the United States so that the government might be prepared for any proposition coming from European capitalists or projectors. The letter of the minister of public works speaks of the great satisfaction which Grant's acceptance of the proposed trust gives to the people of Nicaragua."

Polygamy and the Land Laws

WASHINGTON, Sept 30—An interesting decision has just been made by Acting Secretary Bell of the interior department in the case of Hugh Lyons against Rachel Stevens of Salt Lake City involving the question of the right of these persons to a section of land in the Salt Lake City land district. The claim of Lyons is rejected on the ground that the tract was not subject to pre-emption or settlement by him. Rachel Stevens it appears is one of the several wives of John G Holman whom she recognizes as her husband, and he to all intents and purposes governs and controls her acts. The decision holds that in view of the polygamous condition, that if "the first polygamous wife, while voluntary retaining that illegal relation to a man may in her own name obtain a title to 160 acres of public land the second or twentieth wife may do the same and the so-called husband would thus obtain for his own use and benefit control of that number of tracts of public land." This will not be permitted under the homestead or pre-emption laws

Tilden's Spirits not Most Buoyant

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—A Washington special to the Commercial Advertiser says: Tilden has recently informed his friends that in case New York should go republican this fall, he will immediately and in a formal manner forbid any further use of his name as a candidate for the presidency. Although he admits the danger of Robinson's defeat especially if the Kelly bolt should extend to the country as now seems imminent yet he believes it can be so weakened in the city as to deprive the opposition to him of most of its force. He fully realizes that this whole movement is specially directed against himself and he is preparing to meet it in that sense. Tilden does not disguise his intention to destroy Tammany if it be possible by buying off Kelly's subalterns and he has said it may cost him a round $100 000 or $200 000 but, with all his habits of delay and dislike to part with his dollars he will make this supreme effort without regard to the sacrifice and if it fails he will join Pelton to regret the futile dalliance

A Political Auction in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Sept. 29—The democratic campaign in this state has developed itself into an enterprise which smacks strong of an auction establishment. Within a few days a circular has turned up which is being sent to the democratic county committees by somebody in Columbus which confirms the stories that have been told about the efforts of Thurman's friends to secure the legislature regardless of what becomes of Ewing. A majority of the next legislature is necessary in order to prevent Allen G Thurman from sinking into obscurity and in order to secure the object sought after any democratic candidate from [illegible] ing down on the state ticket or on the county ticket in all close counties are being freely offered for a vote for the legislative candidates. Personal appeals are being made to bring about this result when the application of the party lash does not serve the purpose. Honest democrats especially in the rural sections of the state who have become disgusted with the party are being visited at their homes by men of prominence in the democratic organization. The special committee of [illegible] men and mounted on horses infest the townships of at least ten counties all engaged in working for the election of candidates in the interest of Senator Thurman. Thurman himself dignifies the office he holds by engaging in this work. Last week for three days this statesman and candidate for the presidency was mixing with the greenbackers in Noble county and was closeted with the greenback candidate for the legislature for what purpose is well known. No sooner did the democrats nominate a candidate for the legislature in Guernsey county than the Ohio senator is on hand for the purpose of consultation and when it is known that this democratic candidate is the president of the National Bank it clearly shows how honest the senator is in his denunciation of that class of people. But such is the fact. Senator Thurman presented himself at this National Bank and with its president and candidate for the legislature retired to the parlor in the rear and remained closeted during an entire afternoon. One day he is hobnobbing and mixing with the greenbacker and the next he is holding a secret session with a national banker. One of John Sherman's jets being the name given them by the democratic stumpers while addressing the greenback followers. This is an illustration of Mr Thurman's honesty and consistency

A Philadelphia lady is the owner of a valuable relic in the shape of a manuscript copy of Wesley's Hymns in the handwriting of their author. The book descended to the lady from her grandfather, to whom it was given in partial payment of debt by the son of the man who printed the first edition of the hymns

The following is said to be the manner in which General Grant and General McDowell greeted each other on the deck of the Tokio. Grant, with both hands extended said, "How are you, Mac?" McDowell, a little choky: "How are you, old boy?"

THE OREGON STATE FAIR.

MONDAY—FIFTH DAY

Cause for Discouragement—Money Gone that Comes [illegible]—Races Postponed—The Work of the Ladies—Small Fruit Exhibit—Saturday's Horse Parade

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN]

[illegible]

The morning [illegible] dawned with [illegible] weeping clouds and a heavy rain pouring [illegible] damp and disagreeable [illegible] things [illegible] and many [illegible] have [illegible] items [illegible] up to the close of last week [illegible] hope [illegible] weather now shows signs [illegible] [illegible] there is no use crying when [illegible] laugh [illegible] the same price [illegible] no means represented [illegible] the fair [illegible] parties [illegible] for the [illegible] [illegible] on the grounds this year are [illegible] good deal [illegible] because they say they [illegible] see much chance to get their money back [illegible] managers are [illegible] in no way [illegible] bad weather and [illegible] same [illegible] [illegible] pockets the other is minus his cash and carries his disappointed hopes [illegible]

The rain was incessant almost all the forenoon and consequently all the contests [illegible] day were postponed and with them goes over until to-morrow [the] intended examination of some additional live stock which is now on the grounds.

THE PARADE OF HORSES

Which took place last Saturday was not mentioned particularly in our last letter nor have we space here or inclination to write it up in detail. [illegible] of the horses have been described [illegible] to the readers of THE OREGONIAN and we shall not take up [illegible] space in giving facts which are already familiar to the people generally. For instance Col Nesmith's horse Black Stranger was in the parade looking as well as ever and is just as worthy of mention. [illegible] [illegible] are useless. There were just [illegible] horses all told in the parade and though the number was small it is seldom that a more splendid lot can be seen at one time in any state in the Union. There are in Oregon a large number of men proportionately who have manifested commendable enterprise in exciting extensive interest in the introduction and rearing of an improved breed of horses.

No other branch of the industrial art in our state has shown more rapid or greater progress than is manifested by the difference between the white eyed Cayuses and its crosses measuring from 13 to 14 hands in hight and weighing from 600 to 800 pounds and the magnificent specimens of Norman Percheron or Clydesdales or the more comely active and elegant thoroughbreds which were in the parade on Saturday. There was a great deal of comment by the spectators upon the respective merits of the animals and a wide difference of opinion prevailed, the weight of it however being in favor of less bulky stock of horses for general use than either the Norman Percheron or Clydesdales. For some classes of work such ponderous animals would be best but those no connoisseurs regard such a superfluity of flesh as unnecessary in the general use to which such animals are put. In the show on Saturday an English coach horse recently imported by Mr Imbrie of Washington county attracted much notice and was greatly admired as were a number of Norman and Percheron horses owned by Dr John Weir, M Fairbanks and others. While these large horses looked grand and moved round the circle with a stately tread two thoroughbred race horses Joe Taylor's Frank Hastings and Baskett's Mattie Glide were quite as remarkable for their graceful quick motion and the general beauty of their appearance

THE FRUIT EXHIBIT

This year shows a decreased interest in this important branch of Oregon industry, which may be accounted for by the fact that this state is so proverbially productive of fine apples, pears plums etc that everybody can have them at home and comparatively few persons in this valley express surprise at what would make those unaccustomed to the Oregon product stare in astonishment. The highest premium offered on fruits is $10, a sum insufficient to justify any extensive preparations for exhibition in this line. Four well known fruit growers however have furnished enough to show strangers what Oregon can do in the culture of fruit, each having a large number of specimens of all the various pomological production of the state. The gentlemen who have taken the pains to see that this part of the exhibition is successful are J H Lambert & Sons and Seth Luelling of Milwaukie, G W Walling, of Oswego and Mr Hamilton of Linn county. Their showing is an excellent one though not the best we have ever seen on this ground—a fact attributable to the season and not because these well known growers have allowed their orchards to deteriorate

Mr Cline of Salem exhibits canned fruits of various kinds, which are neatly put up and said by those who have tried them to be equal to best importations

Plummer's dryers are on exhibition on the ground and have pretty nearly crowded all other machines for drying out of notice owing to persistent use of printer's ink and the excellence of the machine itself

There are a great many much melons water melons etc on exhibition but as we were never sure whether they are properly classed with fruit or vegetables we will not speak of them more definitely here

The New Pavilion.

Since Saturday evening the new pavilion has presented a much improved appearance. Almost the entire space has been taken up and all exhibits are well arranged. The ladies handiwork and the floral departments constitute the best portion of the display. The showers this morning and the announcement that there would be no races this afternoon have driven the crowd into the pavilion which has been crowded all day. Their principal amusement is listening to the music furnished on the instruments of two rival music firms one at the right the other at the left of THE OREGONIAN'S headquarters. Numerous volunteers from the audience render vocal music good and bad—mostly bad

LADIES HANDIWORK DEPARTMENT

Mrs W W Martin of Salem shows a gray ladies cloth table cloth exquisitely embroidered with shaded green silk, and a drab skirt embroidered with shaded brown silk also a handsome sofa pillow pincushion and ottoman

Mrs D Jessup of Salem shows infant's white merino silk embroidered skirts and shawls

Mrs Olive England shows a fine white merino silk embroidered robe

Mrs P Levilla shows a number of handsomely worked articles

Miss Amelia Stock of Corvallis shows a beautiful red satin pin cushion and satin covered toilet bottles embroidered with white silk and chenille, two lambrequins, one of Turkish toweling the other of ladies cloth both adorned with silk transfer work in various shades, two Japanese embroidered tidies, a black satin ottoman embroidered in silk to represent a basket of wheat and a black satin sofa pillow embroidered in silk forming a wreath of flowers—puffed with cherry satin. These specimens are among the finest in the department

Mrs Ella Anderson of Portland shows a pair of pillow and sheet shams, infant's and child's dress tastefully worked in darned net—all very neat

Mrs F R Wilson shows a handsome oil painting on black tin—a novelty in the art

Miss Allie Monroe and Miss Agnes Brown show handsome airs-castles—the former's of silver perforated cardboard and white zephyr—the latter of white board with scarlet zephyr and adorned with paper flowers

In the miscellaneous department are three white crochet shawls quite handsome

Mrs W [illegible] Pratt shows a handsome table cover of Turkish toweling worked with shaded double zephyr

Miss Sadie Murphy shows a rug and chair in [illegible] work

[illegible] R [illegible] shows handsome specimens of embroidery, a one table cover worked with [illegible] shaded silk being particularly noticeable

Mrs B H Bowman and Miss Annie Patch show several cases of fine point lace work and Mrs W Bretman a fine lace handkerchief. Mr George Aiken's [illegible] a fine lace [illegible]

In the fancy work art and miscellaneous departments are almost numberless specimens of the skillful industry of fair hands which form the ladies form the most attractive part of the pavilion

[MISCELLANEOUS]

O B Johnson's collection of natural history embraces four cases of beetles (Coleoptera) eight cases of butterflies and moths (Lepidoptera) and a number of cases filled with grasshoppers, bugs, flies etc. Among the mounted specimens of birds of our native fauna are a number [illegible] ducks, pigeons, bitterns and [illegible]. He also shows a series of reptiles in alcohol. [illegible] shells mostly foreign [illegible] very fine. Among them is a [illegible] or glass sponge—a rare specimen from Japan—which attracts much attention and favorable comment.

[illegible] work in picture frames is [illegible] [illegible] particularly in the display [illegible] especially that one in which the portrait of the well known artist appears. Mr [illegible] may feel [illegible] over his ornamental gilding. He can be [illegible] at his place on [illegible] street Portland

Wm Beck & Son have the [largest] show of [illegible] ever shown at the state fair and a [illegible] assortment of cutlery

D W Prentice & Co have a magnificent display [illegible] musical instruments which will be more fully described to-morrow

WHITE [RUSSIAN] WHEAT

Samuel Daw of Corvallis has on exhibition some of the finest specimens of white Russian wheat ever seen. [illegible] the harvest just passed Mr Daw measured one half of a square rod and harvested [illegible] pounds from it. This would make [illegible] bushels and [illegible] pounds to the acre. It is claimed for this wheat that it will yield from 11 to 15 bushels per acre more than other kinds on the same soil, that the grain is heavier and of better quality, that it grows more vigorous and healthy with a straw sufficiently strong to prevent lodging, that the [illegible] and that it remains in good condition [illegible] longer than any other kind of wheat. In the Willamette valley the white Russian wheat will yield 40 bushels to the acre and [illegible] One pound for the third sowing yielded 500 bushels. It will be delivered at any depot on the O & C R R for $2 per bushel. The agents are Samuel Daw Corvallis, and Colonel J McCraken Portland

GENERAL NOTES.

"Nancy Lee" seems to have taken possession of the souls voices, lips and fingers of all the musicians and alleged musicians in this neighborhood. Three brass bands visit the grounds daily, and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the pavilion [illegible] [illegible] laughter [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of a relative of [illegible] to visit the fair and hear her name on so many lips and recording [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] It was [illegible] this afternoon [illegible] squabby [illegible] half grown [illegible]

[illegible] of Watts has a little [illegible] engine near the door of the pavilion and every few minutes he tests the whistle to see whether it is in order. He must have tried it about [illegible] times this afternoon. It was in [illegible] [illegible] and at every shriek there was a chorus [illegible] from frightened infants and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from the ladies. None Genuine without a Facsimile of this Stamp on Each Boot.

BUCKINGHAM & HECHT
THE COUNTER & SEAM PROTECTOR
TRADE MARK
HERCULES
PATENTED MAY 21, 1878

In this boot the counter is covered by a piece of leather extending from under the sole to some three inches above the upper edge of the counter, or in other words, the counter is between the leather of the boot and the protector and is not exposed either on the outside or the inside of the boot, consequently the heel does not touch it at all, thus one of the greatest objections to boots—the trouble of getting the heel over the counter or stiffening—is removed. This is an object of great importance to the consumer, both in economy and comfort. On this point we need only appeal to the thousands who wear boots.

HERCULES.

Another advantage gained by this arrangement is that the same piece of leather that covers and protects the counter also extends beyond the side seams covering those seams, thereby greatly increasing their strength. Again in the old style boot the leg is liable to sag or fall around the ankle, but in The Hercules Boot this is rendered less liable by the counter protector as it doubles the leather at the point where the sagging usually takes place.

HERCULES.

All boots—men's, boys and youths'—may be manufactured with this improvement, though it is most desirable in heavy boots where great strength is required.

HERCULES

We have secured the Sole Right to Manufacture this Boot for the Pacific Coast.

We also keep a full stock of

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER

THE UTE REBELLION

Secretary Schurz in a dispatch says [illegible] clares that the outbreak of the Utes in Colorado is the result of an attempt by the civil authorities of that state to arrest Indians upon their reservation. It is probable that this is one cause of the red man's rage, though the fact that the immediate cause of the trouble at the agency was the attempt of the Indians to prevent the agent from ploughing up land which they wanted for pasturage is substantiated by the reports of the agent himself as well as the letters to the governor of Colorado. Denver papers publish a letter from [illegible] Meeker dated September 10th [illegible] to the governor giving the [illegible] the Indians had forbidden [illegible] that one of the ploughmen had [illegible] that he himself had been assaulted by a leading chief and his followers and that he was convinced there would be an outbreak if he should go on to perform the work [illegible] by the commissioner of Indian affairs. Denver papers also say that two Indians [illegible] the reservation fired the [illegible] of certain citizens outside the reservation limits, and as the offenders were known, the state authorities determined to arrest and bring them to trial. Doubtless this, and it may be other cases, form the instances referred to by Secretary Schurz in which the civil authorities of the state have made an attempt to arrest Indians on their reservation. But there seems to be no good reason why such offenders should not be arrested and dealt with. Nor does it appear that the people of Colorado who will not work themselves nor allow any one else to work on the reservation should be [illegible] to execute their own sweet will without check or hindrance. But Secretary Schurz is known to be a conspicuous type of the sentimentalists who hold that an Indian can do no wrong.

The Utes, in proportion to their numbers, have the largest and most valuable reservation in the United States. It embraces over one third of the arable land and almost the entire western portion of the state of Colorado. It contains about twelve million acres and reaches from a short distance above White river, close to the northern line of Colorado, to the extreme southern boundary of the state. The reservation has on it three agencies. The Northern or White River agency is 128 miles due south of Rawlins, the well known station on the line of the Union Pacific railroad. At this agency about 900 Indians were collected. At the middle or Uncompahgre agency there are about 2000, and at the Southern Ute agency 800. Thus the total number of the confederated tribes of Utes is about 3700. In former days the Utes were an exceedingly warlike race, and were constantly fighting the Sioux and Cheyennes to the north of them and the Navajoes and Apaches on the south. The young braves have kept up these traditions of their people, and think that when they are compelled to be at peace and give up going on the war path, the chase is their only proper occupation. Work they will not. More even than most Indians they regard it as a disgrace, fit only for squaws and old men. To these Indians—as to Indians generally—government has been much more generous than to white settlers, as it has given them over three thousand acres of land to each man, woman and child. But within this enormous domain, large part of which is magnificent farming land, only a few acres about Uncompahgre agency are cultivated and it is likely one acre in a thousand ever will be cultivated so long as the Utes possess the country. As shown here [illegible] it was resistance to cultivation of the soil that precipitated the outbreak at White river. This immense reservation is the very best portion of Colorado. It would afford homes to half a million white settlers, adding immensely to the agricultural wealth of the state and affording opportunity for the development on a great scale of a vast [illegible]. Of course it is rank injustice that this waste [illegible] be allowed to continue. That there should be a strong public sentiment of this kind in Colorado is not surprising. Such sentiment exists in every locality where the vast reservations, of which no use is made by the Indians, withhold the land from those who would use it. No doubt this feeling among the people of Colorado has disposed them not to tolerate the Indians outside of their reservation at all, and to deal summarily with every trespass on their part. It is the old simple story with which we are all familiar by long experience. About all the reservations where there are great bodies of good land of which no use is made there is a sentiment that "the Indians must go," and [illegible] this sentiment is probably more intense than elsewhere because the magnitude of the abuse there exceeds the parallel at any other locality — though here acts of violence or injustice are alleged on the part of the whites.

The principal discontent on the part of the Indians has been at White river agency, though since the outbreak it is probable that many Utes from the other agencies have joined the hostiles. Ouray, head chief at Uncompahgre, is, however, an advocate of peace, and has always been. He has to some extent adopted the habits of civilized life, has learned to read and to sign his name, and was in the habit of sending letters direct to President Grant, stating his grievances and what he wanted. He has several times visited Washington, and that there has been peace on the part of the Utes heretofore is due entirely to his influence. He is not, however, hereditary head chief but became chief some years ago through his force of character and the favor of the government. Frequent attempts have been made to assassinate him by the Indians themselves, especially by those of hereditary chieftain blood who are jealous of his power and dissatisfied with his change of mode, habits and customs.

From this history it will be seen that discontent has long been brewing among the Utes. As affairs grew more threatening a body of troops was ordered some two weeks ago to proceed to White river agency to keep the peace. The force began its march from Rawlins on the 22d September. It consisted of three companies of cavalry and one of infantry, with a supply wagon train. The whole was under command of Major Thornburgh of the fourth infantry. The troops were two companies of the fifth cavalry under Capts Payne and Volkmar, one company of the third cavalry under Capt Lawson, and one company of the fourth infantry from Fort Steele. On nearing the agency on [illegible] September the command was attacked as heretofore reported. Major Thornburgh was killed and many men were killed or wounded. The agent, his family and employes are massacred, and the usual horrors of an Indian outbreak are reported. It is probable that the result will be a permanent settlement of the Ute question. The more of them killed the easier will it be to [illegible] the remainder.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

A little over a year ago THE OREGONIAN, when contending for a sound policy in relation to the Northern Pacific railroad, asserted that the company controlling this enterprise had great financial strength and that the Northern Pacific was the only road which really gave promise of accomplishing anything for the northwest. Hence this paper protested against a policy which in effect was aiding rival and paper schemes against the [illegible] that offered. But [illegible] a failure of the [illegible] scheme would listen to nothing concerning the Northern Pacific. They asserted [illegible] was a fraud; that it was bankrupt; undertaking that never could go on and that [illegible] would be completely disappear [illegible] has the satisfaction of [illegible] the Northern Pacific is fully vindicated. [illegible] the hand that [illegible] the imaginary railway schemes which were pitted against it sufficiently indicates the judgments as to their shadowy and visionary character. While the Northern Pacific is going ahead they still remain in the clouds and refuse to materialize as persistently as ever. No one now doubts the strength of the Northern Pacific or hesitates to believe that the construction of its line will be prosecuted with ceaseless energy till the whole is [illegible]. That there is not greater assurance [illegible] to Portland we regret [illegible] here in future time [illegible] was made not accept [illegible] the company offered [illegible] by way of the Columbia river to Portland. THE OREGONIAN will [illegible] have the satisfaction of remembering that it was [illegible] the right side of the question [illegible] the proper [illegible] opportune.

The [illegible] the North American Review [illegible] The Woman Question [illegible] Parkman the historian [illegible] vindicate the consistency [illegible] in the relations of the sexes [illegible] those who consider the [illegible] employment of women [illegible] sex exclude from the [illegible] therefore [illegible] consider it at all that woman's relative position is determined by various conditions, [illegible] the engrossing nature of her [illegible] functions that her greatest limitations are not of human origin and that as [illegible] did not make them they cannot unmake them, and that it is utter folly to ignore them, or to try to counteract them by political or social quackery. And yet notwithstanding limitations on one side and comparative freedom on the other that it would not be safe to say that the allotment of happiness to the two sexes is unequal. The writer's views bring him of course to question the political tendencies of the so called woman movement. His whole argument is one of unusual force and power on that side of the question.

No little concern is manifested by the southern press on account of the political situation in New York. It is perceived that the whole desperate game which has been played to make the south solid and keep it so will amount to nothing if New York be lost. So the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution says: "The democrats of New York might as well be told now that the south is growing fatigued with their small comicalities. If New York is lost to the democracy this fall the country is lost to the party in 1880. With this certainty before her the south will know how to shape her course. We have learned down here that self preservation is as important as patriotism. In the confusion that will follow the loss of New York the south is amply able to take care of her future." This appears to be a kind of threat of secession from the democratic party. But it will not be carried out. It serves however to show the alarm of the south at the prospect of being confronted with the vanities and disappointments that may follow even "solid" politics.

In Philadelphia the salaries of teachers in the public schools have recently been readjusted. Principals of boys grammar schools and principals of mixed grammar schools having eight or more divisions get $1275 a year. Principals of such schools having six or seven divisions get $1225 and of those having three divisions $1125. Principals of girls grammar schools having eight or more divisions get $630; of those having six divisions $480 and those having three divisions, $389. Teachers who have actually taught five years and over get $470; those who have taught four years $440; those who have taught three years $410; those who have taught two years $380; those who have taught one year $350 and those who have taught less than one year $320. How much these figures are below salaries paid in Portland and San Francisco those interested in such subjects will not fail to note.

The political situation in Georgia is a remarkable product of democratic home rule. There is no republican party in that state nor has there been for years. Democrats have everything their own way; the result is that the state government has grown to be a hotbed of corruption, several of the state officers have been impeached, the whole state is excited by the stormy scenes being enacted at the state capital, and there are even mutterings of armed revolution. This is the interpretation of many recent telegraphic dispatches about affairs in Georgia. So it appears that even in a solid state everything doesn't move smoothly. It used to be said that the carpet baggers were the only rascals in the south. But hear now what the native governmen of Georgia are proving against each other!

In this country there are only eleven establishments for making steel rails. The process or part of it is patented so that others cannot use it. One of the eleven establishments is now paid by the others to remain idle. And this extortionate system of robbery is protected by a duty on foreign rails which shuts them out of the market. If any system of creating and supporting a monopoly superior to this was ever devised one would like to know what and where it is.

As I went up First street I saw a card in the window of the Oregon Furniture Store which read as follows: Wanted—Four cabinet makers. None but first class workmen need apply. If they do not take that first class, the Tailors Union will get after them. W J QUINN Tailor

MR. ANDERSON ARRIVED ON THE ELDER. He goes to work for that meek man Quinn. He is a first class coat maker. He don't belong to that noble body that dare not call themselves first class mechanics. What would Grant say if he knew there was not a first class workman in the Tailors Union. What swells the passenger list? Quinn's first class tailors are coming. The Union is sick. Some of the snobs will have to go back to their old business, slinging five cent beer at that. Everything that can sew on a button belongs to the Tailors' Union. CITY.

CAUCASIAN VS CHINAMEN.—A [illegible] scene transpired at the foot of Morrison street yesterday It seems that Anthony Hall had a contract with Capt Swan of the bark Anne Main which lies at the foot of that street to remove the ballast from the dock for 30 cents per ton Everything being arranged Hall went away and procured a force of white men to assist in the removal of the ballast Before his return Mr A. Hamilton the well known stevedore, brought a force of Chinamen to the dock and began to move the ballast without having consulted Capt Swan or Hall Presently Hall and his men reached the dock and were not a little surprised to find the Celestials hard at work But the men were not to be bluffed in that fashion and they made a rapid descent and gave the Chinamen the grand oriental bounce [illegible] they were got cleverly at work before Hamilton lodged a complaint at the police station and had Hall arrested This caused a temporary suspension of operations during which time, Hamilton's Celestials began to remove the sand Hall furnished the bail required, and was released He returned to the dock when the white men for the second time made the Chinamen leave the field The legal contest [illegible] will be settled in the police court to day

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD NOTES.

The ship Tecumseh with 1500 tons of rails from Philadelphia is now due here, and may drop in any day

The bark Melancthon with a cargo of rails from San Francisco for the Northern Pacific railroad, is now due here. The rails were sent from the east and reshipped at San Francisco.

The statement that other vessels are now loading with rails at Philadelphia for the Northern Pacific is incorrect No rails can be had to fill further orders till December The rails now about to arrive will be forwarded to Snake river this fall.

The force employed in grading above Snake river is now 350 men They are pushing right ahead Weather is good there, and few difficulties are found in the route selected The point from which the grade starts is on Snake river about half a mile above its junction with the Columbia

Persons desiring to submit tenders for ties and timber for the Northern Pacific railroad in compliance with advertisement appearing in our columns, will take notice that the time for sending tenders expires on the 15th inst. We are authorized to state that Gen. Sprague will be at the O S N Co's office in this city on that day, and tenders may be submitted to him in person. Those interested may by being present learn immediately the result of the bidding

MECHANICS' FAIR.

The following circular letter has been distributed among the citizens of Portland, by the secretary of the Mechanics' Industrial Association

PORTLAND, Oregon October 1879

SIR I take great pleasure in informing you that the annual exhibition of the Mechanics' fair will be opened in the pavilion now in course of construction between Clay and Market and Second and Third streets, in this city on the 20th day of October 1879 and will continue two weeks at least. The patronage already promised this fair assures its success and by the united effort of yourself and others, may be made of lasting benefit to you as well as to the city and state Your assistance to the undertaking is therefore earnestly solicited

Should you conclude to contribute to the success of this fair by participating as an exhibitor you will please notify the undersigned by filling up and signing the enclosed application for space, for which nothing will be charged and returning the same at your earliest convenience

Further particulars given on application

Yours respectfully
H B NICHOLAS Secretary

Room No 10, Dekum's Building

STREET POSTAL BOXES --LOOK OUT!

My attention has been called to the fact that some mischievous persons have been guilty of destroying the glass over the notices in the street mailing boxes and have otherwise injured them It will be well for all persons to understand that this act is a high crime and subjects the guilty party to a severe penalty No effort will be spared to detect the persons engaged in this business and to prosecute them to the full extent of the law The section of the Revised Statutes of the United States is as follows

SEC. 3869 Every person who willfully and maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letter box, pillar box or other receptacle established by the postmaster general, for the safe deposit of matter for the mail or for delivery, or who willfully and maliciously assaults any letter carrier when in uniform, while engaged on his route in the discharge of his duty as a letter carrier and every person who willfully aids or assists therein, shall for every such offense be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, and not more than one thousand or by imprisonment for not less than one year and not more than three.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other, Doctor Cox government revenue officer at Cincinnati Ohio says in his report that after ten years of close investigation he can safely say that very few if any pure wines or brandies are exported from the Old Continent to [illegible] He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines that there's great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States Other proofs could be cited were it necessary to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy Orders from responsible parties addressed to Wm Scheffler or Geo H Beach St Helena Napa county Cal will receive prompt attention

It is difficult to give a statement of the condition of the local wheat market which would be deemed correct by all parties. Transactions are so few as hardly to establish a fixed and certain market rate. Many and most sales are conducted as mysteriously as if a transaction in wheat was something to be ashamed of, or its effect upon the market feared, and it is impossible to learn the exact price of transfer. Business has not been brisk to-day, the feeling on the part of both buyers and sellers still existing. A good quality of wheat would easily have brought $1 85 per cental, though a medium or inferior quality would have gone begging at a reduction of several cents. The Liverpool market was firmer.

Five ships were chartered to day at San Francisco at a price equal to 62 6 (£3 2s 6d) for wooden ships, to Cork for orders from San Francisco, which leaves only 6000 tons disengaged at that port. Freights are very firm there, there having been no arrivals since our last report, except the Victoria Cross, which was chartered to arrive, last month. Considerable wheat changed hands at San Francisco last week.

KING OF THE BLOOD

THE MOST THOROUGH PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD YET DISCOVERED.

Cures all Humors, from a Common Eruption to the Worst Scrofula.

It purifies the Blood.
It invigorates the Liver.
It regulates the Bowels.
It strengthens the Stomach.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude; cheerfulness in place of gloom, and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, in short all the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this powerful corrector, the chief and sovereign of all ancient or modern medical discoveries—KING OF THE BLOOD.

ITS NAME IS ITS BEST DESCRIPTION, as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health, and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages. It has frequently cured it when advanced.

It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.

It cures DROPSY, general or partial.

It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.

It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.

It eradicates the effects of Mineral Poisons, and establishes a sound constitution.

Many certificates, much further information and full directions for using, will be found in the pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," in which each bottle is enclosed.

Price $1 per bottle containing 12 ounces, or 40 to 50 doses. Sold by Dealers in medicine.

REASONS WHY

SO MANY USE

ROYAL LAUNDRY SOAP.

1. Because only the VERY BEST materials are used in its construction.
2. Because our foreman, who personally superintends its manufacture, is the man who, for FIVE CONSECUTIVE YEARS, took the ONLY premiums awarded at the Oregon State Fair for SOAPS and LARD OIL.
3. Because it never fails to give complete satisfaction.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the District of Oregon.—In Admiralty—Monition—No 884. The steamship Great Republic. Whereas, Pierre B. Cornwall, sole owner of the wrecked steamship Great Republic did on July 5, 1879, file his petition in the above entitled court praying for a limitation of liability as provided in sections 4283, 4284 and 4285 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and, whereas, on August 9, 1879 an order was made by said court allowing said petition, and appointing J. K. Stoddard, Esq., of Portland, Oregon, trustee to receive from said Cornwall a transfer of all his interest in said vessel and freight, in trust for all persons who may be entitled to the benefit thereof, and, whereas, said Cornwall did on September 22, 1879, file in said court his transfer to said trustee of all his interest aforesaid; now, therefore, in accordance with said order of said court, this is to cite and admonish all persons claiming damages on account of the loss and destruction of said steamship Great Republic to appear before this court and make due proof of their respective claims, before the clerk thereof, designated as a commissioner for such purpose, on or before January 1, 1880.

Witness the Hon. Matthew P. Deady, Judge of said court, and the seal thereof affixed at Portland in said district this September 25, 1879.
